FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

35. Plaintiff and other similarly situated individuals are individuals who have worked for Defendants in similarly-titled, hourly paid position, during the statutory period.

36. Plaintiff and other similarly situated individuals all shared similar job titles, training, job descriptions and job tasks, during the statutory period.

37. Plaintiff was an employee of Defendants.

38. Plaintiff was ostensibly employed as a server, bartender, and general worker at Defendants' restaurant located at 83-17 Northern Blvd., Queens, NY 11372, (i.e., "Mister Cangrejo") from on or around December 2022 to, through and including, May 2023.

39. Plaintiff's work duties required neither discretion nor independent judgment.

40. From approximately December 2022 to, through and including, May 2023, Plaintiff worked five (5) days per week: Wednesdays and Thursdays, from approximately 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. (i.e., 11 hours per day), and Fridays through Sunday, from approximately either 12:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m., 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., or 1:00 p.m. to 12:00 a.m. (i.e., 11 hours per day), for a total period of approximately 55 hours during each of the weeks, respectively.

41. From approximately December 2022 to, through and including, May 2023, Defendants paid Plaintiff a flat salary of $80 per day.

42. Plaintiff was ostensibly employed as a tipped worker. However, she was required to spend a considerable part of her workday performing non-tipped duties, including but not limited to cleaning, and prepping food (collectively, the “non-tipped duties”).

43. Upon information and belief, Defendants employed the policy and practice of disguising Plaintiff’s actual duties in payroll records by designating her as a tipped worker instead of a non-tipped employee. This allowed Defendants to avoid paying Plaintiff at the minimum wage rate and enabled them to pay Plaintiff at or below the tip-credit rate.

44. However, under both the FLSA and NYLL, Defendants were not entitled to take a tip credit because these Plaintiff’s non-tipped duties exceeded 20% of each workday, or 2 hours per day, whichever is less in each day. 12 N.Y.C.R.R. §146.

45. Defendants did not establish, maintain, and preserve records as required by law, or did not make any such records available to Plaintiff or other participants in the mandated tip sharing scheme, that included: (1) a daily log of the tips collected by each employee on each shift, whether in cash or by credit card; (2) a list of occupations that the employer deemed eligible to receive tips through tip sharing; (3) the shares of tips that each occupation was scheduled to receive from tip sharing; and (4) the amount in tips that each employee received from the tip share by date.

46. Defendants did not post in a conspicuous place notices issued by the Department of Labor about wage and hour laws, tip appropriations, or illegal deduction provisions.

47. Plaintiff was required to work over forty hours per week, but never received an overtime premium of one and one-half times her regular rate of pay for all of her hours worked.

48. Defendants' conduct extended beyond Plaintiff to all other similarly situated employees.

49. No notification, either in the form of posted notices, or other means, was ever given to Plaintiff regarding wages are required under the FLSA or NYLL.

50. Defendants did not provide Plaintiff a statement of wages, as required by NYLL 195(3).

51. Defendants did not give any notice to Plaintiff of Plaintiff's rate of pay, employer's regular pay day, and such other information as required by NYLL § 195(1).

52. Defendant's failure to provide accurate wage notices and accurate wage statements denied Plaintiff her statutory right to receive true and accurate information about the nature of her employment and related compensation policies.

53. Moreover, the breach of the obligations injured Plaintiff by denying her the right to know the conditions of her compensation and resulted in the underpayment of wages averred above.

54. Plaintiff brings the First Claim for Relief as a collective action pursuant to FLSA §16(b), 29 U.S.C. §216(b), on behalf of all non-exempt persons (including but not limited to team leads and dental assistants) employed by Defendants on or after the date that is three years before filing of the Complaint in this case, as defined herein ("FLSA Collective Plaintiffs").

55. At all relevant times, Plaintiff and FLSA Collective Plaintiffs are and have been
